

REMOVABLE CHEST STRAP

Removable chest strap can be taken down if you wear KiBi baby carrier with crossed shoulder straps on your back.

How to take the chest strap down:

1. Open the big buckles with lock on shoulder straps.
2. Inside the loops on removable chest strap you can find one small black strap with stud on its end on each sides – unbutton them.
3. Then you can take the chest strap down.

How to take the chest strap up again:

1. Open big safety buckle on the end of shoulder straps.
2. Thread unattached part of shoulder strap with male part of buckle through the loop on the edge of removable chest strap.
3. Push up removable chest strap high on the padding. Do the same on the second shoulder strap.
4. Inside the loops on removable chest strap you can find one small black strap with stud on its end. Scrape this small strap between shoulder strap padding and vertical black strap above and snap the stud. This will ensure entire removable chest strap on the right place and it will don't have a chance to fall from the shoulder padding.

It's done!
